Dear Parents

This year, we have implemented a new curriculum for Religious Education. This is based upon the locally agreed syllabus and as part of the curriculum, encourages schools to learn more about world views and alternative faiths. As part of interfaith week, last week all classes read and discussed information about a child from an alternative faith to one they have studied recently. In addition, we were pleased to welcome Ama on Tuesday who spoke to all of the children about African churches.

Thank you to all parents who have returned their photo permission consents. Photographs and videos provide a record of some special memories in school and it is therefore important that these are kept up to date. As we approach our productions, please remember that we allow parents and friends to take photos and videos of these however request that they are not shared online or on social media.

Today, the parents of children in Classes 1 and 2 should have received their letter in order to book tickets for their Christmas production of 'The Amazing Advent Calendar'. Please ensure that these are returned by Wednesday 30th November so that tickets can be allocated. In order to maximise the number of parents who are able to attend their first choice of time, we are initially limiting tickets to two per family. There will however be surplus tickets available for some of the performances once these have been allocated and we will let you know when these are also available to book.

At the start of term, part of the road outside school was resurfaced. We were pleased that recently the yellow zig zags were reinstated outside school. Please can I remind everyone that these exist for the safety of those accessing the school and therefore parking or stopping upon these to drop off and pick up within the designated times is prohibited.

Yours sincerely,

Richard Winks
